

Dr. Rupali Das

Dr. Rupali Das is Senior Vice President and California Medical Director at Zenith Insurance Company, where she collaborates with the leadership team and all departments to provide guidance for appropriate delivery of medical care to workers while also balancing business process needs. Dr. Das previously served as the Executive Medical Director of the California Division of Workers' Compensation.

She received her MD degree from the University of Illinois, Chicago, and her Master's degree in Public Health from the University of California, Berkeley. She is board certified in Internal Medicine and Preventive Medicine/Occupational Medicine and is a Fellow of the American College of Occupational and Environmental Medicine. Dr. Das is Clinical Professor of Medicine at UCSF's Division of Occupational and Environmental Medicine and continues to teach and mentor residents and students.

Dr. Das' areas of clinical expertise include chemical exposures, pesticide illness, lung disorders, infectious diseases, chronic health conditions, illness prevention and promoting wellness.