

108: MANAGEMENT AND LEADERSHIP FOR HRM

PRESENTER

Lourdes Gonzalez,
MBA, CIHM, CLCS, AFIS, HRP
Director of Human Resources
Gowan Company

COURSE DESCRIPTION

HR professionals must be able to fit themselves and their department within the big picture of the overall organization. To do this, they must have some understanding of how organizations develop structures and carry out policies via management and leadership. This course addresses social, political, and economic factors that can exist within organizations, and provides students with basic leadership concepts that improve their ability to analyze an organization and make sound human resource management decisions.

Topics include:

- Discerning basic aspects of organizational behavior;
- Analyzing corporate culture and style preference;
 - Developing effective leadership techniques;
- Understanding the importance of motivation and performance management;
- Planning and implementing organizational change;
 - Diversity in the workplace.
